Instead of having a "Do Not Call List." You should have a "Call List." People should sign up to receive calls - not sign up not to receive them. This way only people that want to be called would be called.